Be Seen! Set Up YOUR Artist Profile.

Metro Arts and NowPlayingNashville.com have partnered to offer an enhanced artist directory service for the Nashville and Middle Tennessee area.

The Artist Directory offers singers, songwriters, visual artists, poets, performers and musicians the opportunity to create a profile in the directory with bios, photos, contact information and more. Artists can even link to their events on the NowPlayingNashville.com calendar to inform the public of their activities.

HOW TO BEGIN: Visit www.NowPlayingNashville.com and select the “DIRECTORIES” tab, followed by the “ARTIST PROFILES” tab.

Sweeping, psychedelic melodies and bizarre lyrical content propel their sets, as slews of props and masks add to their outrageous on-stage antics. With elaborate compositions pushed to the boundary by weird twisted humor, H-Beam captivates audiences by leaving them with a unique musical experience. The band harnesses the power of sheer sensory overload and imprints a lasting memory in the minds of those that dare to stray from the comforts of predictable rock formulas. "Walberg's Useful Box of Hair album is the most unique collection of songs that I've ever heard! It's Clapton meets Hendrix manic guitar-driven music with lyrics by Hemingway and Zappa. And Charles Manson doing monologues between cuts." —Rich Barnet, author This Business of Concert Promotion and Touring. "H-Beam are Nashville's resident psych-weirdo specialists. Promising that 2013 will be weirder than ever - Nashville's psychedelic rockers, H-BEAM - is kicking off the year with a hilarious stage show on Friday, January 25th at the legendary Exit/In. H-BEAM is known for their Zappa-esque style music and crazy onstage antics and has been spotted on stages across Nashville, including multiple performances at the fall concert series, Live on the Green. With new songs and characters along with some...

Musician

About the artist:

H-Beam's wild stage show pulls influences from a strong upbringing in the entertainment industry. By fusing aspects of theater and music, the band fathers a musical variety show resembling genes of Rocky Horror and Frank Zappa.
