Mission Statement

The Mission of the Metro Nashville Emergency Communications Center (MNECC) is to provide initial emergency and non-emergency first responder products to the Public and our First Responder Partners so they can experience the benefits of a healthier, more secure community.

Message from ECC

Welcome to our Results Matters Project. The Public Safety profession uses a language that is sometimes different from other businesses. We would like to define a few terms that are included in this document that will help you the reader better follow our story. Thank you for being a part of our process.

First Responder: Any member of the Public Safety team that consists of Police, Fire (including Emergency Medical Service) or Communications. Those that, in some way, answer a call for service.

Best In Class: For Emergency Communications, there are not a lot of published standards. However, there are some generally accepted recommendations followed by centers wishing to achieve exceptional results. This is how we define Best In Class. For some measures, the MNECC may be setting some standards that have never been set for our industry.

Call for Service: A call received by MNECC which results in the need for a field first responder to be sent to a location.

Emergency Assistance: Assistance from a First Responder rendered via any method such as telephone or in person which will mitigate an emergency situation.
