

A weekly selection of issues and activities relevant to local planning in Nashville and Davidson County

Issue #143
February 22, 2011

Is Nashville the “next boomtown of the New South”?

Urbanophile.com says it's definitely possible.

We may be in the Century of the Suburb

The suburbs will have to change, though.

Nothing's been built yet...

but a bike path made of solar panels is supposed to take prototype form in Holland next year.

Questions, comments, or link suggestions: craig.owensby@nashville.gov

The Metro Nashville-Davidson County Planning Department publishes this weekly digest to inform members of the Planning Commission, Metro Council, Board of Zoning Appeals, and other interested parties about planning and growth issues in other communities which could apply to our city and region, with particular emphasis on appropriate development, smart growth, multimodal transportation, and other information which will help us build a sustainable future and a more livable city.