

CONTEST: Arbor Day National Poster Contest

5th Grade

Sponsored by The National Arbor Day Foundation and Tennessee Department of Agriculture Forestry Division

- WHO: Competition is for fifth grade students in public or private schools
- WHAT: Contest to produce posters using the national Arbor Day theme
- DETAILS: See www.arborday.org/kids/postercontest/index.cfm for this year's theme, judging information and deadlines for entries. Teachers will receive a free activity guide including in-depth lesson plans, hands on activities and contest information.
- PURPOSE: "Trees are vital to us all, and we need to share their history and grandeur with future generations," says John Rosenow, president of The National Arbor Day Foundation. "Through this contest, students have the opportunity to learn about the environmental benefits of trees and develop an appreciation of trees and what they provide us."
- TO ENTER: Teachers and home-schoolers in Tennessee can sign up by contacting Bruce Webster, contest coordinator and Forrester for the state.

Requests can be mailed to:
