Department of Codes & Building Safety
Metropolitan Government of Nashville and Davidson County
Karl Dean, Mayor

INTRODUCTION

We all have different expectations of our neighbors. For some of us, a good neighbor is one who takes time for chats across the fence, or who helps with the chores when a neighbor is ill. For others, a good neighbor is one who leaves us alone.

Although we don't agree on all of the fine points of neighborliness, we do tend to agree on certain basic standards that allow residents to enjoy their homes and property, preserve peace and quiet in our neighborhoods, help maintain property values and prevent disputes among neighbors.

The people of Nashville have enacted these standards into law. Some of the "good neighbor ordinances" are described in this booklet.

Remember, when you follow these simple rules, you are not only obeying the law—you're being a good neighbor!

ADMINISTRATION

The Department of Codes & Building Safety is responsible for the interpretation, administration and enforcement of the Metro Building Code, Property Standards Code, Zoning Code, Plumbing, Electrical, Gas, and Mechanical Codes.

10 THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT CODES & BUILDING SAFETY

Who really wants to get a letter from the Code's man? I know I wouldn't, so we have compiled a list of things you must know in order to avoid the dreaded Abate Notice as well as a few tips on what to do if you get one.

- ◆ Number 10 - Call The Inspector. If you receive an abate notice from Codes and have questions, call the inspector. This will avoid being cited to environmental court for failure to comply.
- ◆ Number 9 - Out of Sight Doesn't Mean It's Not a Violation. A lot of folks think that their dead vehicle or junk is OK if it is hidden behind a privacy fence or covered up by a tarp or car cover. Remember, if it's a violation without the camouflage, it's a violation.
- ◆ Number 8 - Trailers Are For Haul'in and Not Stor'in. The rules concerning trailers have changed, but one thing has always been true. You can't use an open trailer to store trash, junk and debris. Some things are OK to keep on the trailer, like a functional motor vehicle or a riding lawn mower, but old paint cans, dead appliances, and trash are a no-no. And trailers that are in the front of the property must be parked on a hard surface.
- ◆ Number 7 - If It's Bigger Than 10' X 10', Get a Permit. If you plan to build a deck or storage building or any other structure larger than 100 square feet, you must first obtain a building permit. There are two very important reasons for this. First, structures larger than 10-square feet should be inspected to ensure they are constructed properly, lest they fall apart and cause serious injury or death. The second reason is to make sure the structure does not extend into your required front, side or rear setback.
- ◆ Number 6—Home is for living. Unless you have a home occupation permit that allows for limited use of a part of your home for a business, you can't operate a business on the residential property. If the customers have to come to you or you are doing auto repair on someone else's vehicle, then you are probably in violation of the zoning code. If you think you'd like to operate a business from your home, give the zoning department a call first to ask about a Home Occupation Permit.

- ◆ Number 5 - If I Give It Gas, It's Got To Go. Vehicles stored on private property must meet three conditions. The vehicle must operate, it must have a current metal license plate affixed to the vehicle and it must be parked on a hard surface (asphalt, concrete or gravel). Temporary tags are not sufficient, and the vehicle must be able to start and drive on the roadway under its own power.
- ◆ Number 4 - Three's Company, Four or More Is Illegal. The zoning code defines a family as individuals related by blood or marriage. There can be no more than three unrelated individuals or persons in a dwelling unit. No matter how large the structure may be the limit is three. The only exception to this is an approved care or rehabilitation facility. These must have State and local Fire Marshal approval. Everyone else must adhere to the three unrelated person rule.
- ◆ Number 3 - But Our Deed Restriction Says... Metro has no jurisdiction over restrictive covenants and other deed restrictions. If it's not in the Metropolitan Code of Laws, we can't enforce it. If your subdivision's covenants prohibit using the color pink as a house paint color, you have to take your neighbor to civil court to address that issue; Metro has no standing to enforce private covenants.
- ◆ Number 2 - Grazing In The Grass Ain't Always A Gas. Fields of grass might be great in the country, but in the city your grass can't be over 12 inches tall and the yard area can't be allowed to become overgrown with weeds and other plant materials. If you want to use native vegetation to create a more natural setting, you will need to file a vegetation plan with the Metro Beautification Commission first. Otherwise, your natural landscape might be considered an overgrown landscape that could land you in environmental court.
- ◆ Number 1 - Ugly Ain't In The Code. We get lots of calls from neighbors who want to do something about the ugly house in the neighborhood. Unfortunately, if what is wrong is just plain ugly, then there isn't anything we can do about it. Ugly includes shocking paint colors, yard art gone crazy, that big bass boat on a nice trailer in the driveway, and the list goes on. One of the effective way to address this issue is to try and talk to the neighbor and offer some constructive advice on how they can make their home fit better in the neighborhood. But be warned, some folds love their garden gnomes and pink shutters. You may just have to live with it.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT PROGRAMS

The Department of Codes Building & Safety offers several Community Support Programs. Some of the programs are listed below, and we are always trying to improve and increase our involvement in the communities in Nashville.

NOTICE PROGRAM

How many times have you noticed something in your neighborhood, which brought down its appearance? We've all seen that abandoned vehicle, or the house with old furniture and junk scattered about. And you have probably wondered, "Is there anything I can do about that?"

Well now you can. The "Neighborhoods Organized to Initiate Code Enforcement" (NOTICE) program is designed to help citizens identify and report codes violations in their neighborhood. This customer support program that allows citizens to assist in the identification of basic Property Standards and Health code violations. Neighbors can now become a direct participant in the process that helps improve and maintain their own neighborhoods.

The program is available to neighborhood groups only. Interested groups should first identify at least four persons who will form their Volunteer Inspection Team. The group should then submit short application to the Property Standards division. The application can be faxed (862-6593) or sent via regular mail to the Codes Department. Once we receive the application, we can schedule a training session where the group will receive training to help them to identify potential codes violations.

A special reporting procedure has been established and the program provides for anonymous notification of property owners of codes violations. Our objectives for this program are to:

- Clean up the exterior of residential or commercial buildings, grounds, and vacant lots.
- Instill a sense of community pride and stem further blight of the neighborhood.
- Foster community involvement in the upkeep of our neighborhood and the city.

To obtain additional information or to request an application, call the Metro Codes office at 862-6590.

STRATEGIC NEIGHBORHOOD INITIATIVE NARROWING THE FOCUS

The Strategic Neighborhood Initiative (SNI) is similar to other program in the it relies upon input from the community, but it differs in that it is limited to inspections of a much smaller area. Up to five blocks can be inspected under this program and the inspections in the five blocs will concentrate on identifying any codes violation, no matter how small. Our goal with this program is to intensely enforce the code within in the five block area in order to produce an immediate, visible change in the community. In other programs, where the inspections are occurring over a wider area, it is sometimes difficult to see the improvements being made.

In order to participate in the SNI program, a request must be made by a neighborhood group. Individuals cannot request an SNI inspection. If a group is interested, they should first select the five blocks they would like to focus on. These blocks can be five separate blocks or they can be five contiguous blocks. By limiting the area of the inspections, we can focus our assets and can often make an immediate impact on a community since the blocks selected are the worst in the neighborhood. Because these are the worst blocks, it may take longer to bring the properties into compliance given the number of violations and / or the complexity of these cases.

Neighborhood groups interested in participating in this program should contact the Property Standards division to schedule a meeting with the group to discuss their needs and the programs requirements.

It's a good idea to have some blocks identified prior to the meeting in order to facilitate the selection process. The Codes staff will review the selected blocks to determine their appropriateness for the program and to establish our inspection timeline. Once the inspections occur, we will provide the group with a report of our progress. We invite Nashville's neighborhoods to take advantage of Code's newest pro-active community support program.

CODES ON-LINE
CUSTOMER SERVICE DESK

Citizens can report codes violation in a number of ways. While many requests are received by phone, Metro Codes can accept Requests for Service via the internet. From the Metro Government home page, www.nashville.gov, click on the Building Code section at the WORK tab on the left side of the page. Then select the heading entitled Report a Codes Violation under the "I Want To..." section on the right side of the page to access the Codes On-Line screen. When completing the form, the two most important pieces of information are the address of the violation and a description of the violation. Especially important are items like when the violation occurs (i.e.: at night or on the weekend) or where on the property the violations are located, etc.

A Request for Service (RFS), once received by Codes' Property Standards Division, is entered into the request tracking system which schedules an initial inspection.

Some examples of code violations include: high grass and weeds, debris on a property; an abandoned and / or inoperable vehicle; dilapidated house; graffiti on building; sign violations; operating a business in residential zoning; farm animals; rooming and boarding houses. Once the request is submitted, an email message is sent to the citizen with the (RFS) number indicating that a request has been initiated and an inspection will follow. After a reasonable amount of time, if the citizen would like to follow-up on the status of the inspection, they may call the Property Standards Division at 86206590 for an update, referencing the RFS number.

E-NEWSLETTER

Every month, the Property Standards Division places a digital Neighborhood Newsletters on the website for the Dept. of Codes & Building Safety. In the newsletter, the department has articles of interest to the Nashville neighbors. We also place announcements of things going on with various communities in Nashville as well as various tips and suggestions on many topics including seasonal gatherings and community activities.

CODES ADMINISTRATION—PERMITS AND ZONING

Business Operating in Residential Area: A business may not operate in a residential zone district unless a Home Occupation Permit has been obtained. Before obtaining a permit, nine (9) conditions must be met by the applicant. The permit allows for one (1) “non-resident” employee to work on the premises. No customers or clients may visit the premises. There shall be no visible signs from the dwelling indicating the type of business being operated. The area used for the Home Occupation Permit may not exceed 20% of the area of the premises, but in no event more than 500 square feet. For information, call 862-6590.

Building Permits: Building permits are mandated by state and local laws to promote orderly development through a Zoning Code and to bring about safe construction through Construction Codes. It is the duty of every person desiring to construct, alter, repair, enlarge, move or demolish a building or structure, or part thereof, or any appurtenances connected or attached thereto, or to install any heating, air conditioning/ventilation, mechanical, electrical or plumbing systems, to obtain proper permits.

Building permits are required for roof replacement/repairs if the project involves repairs to more than one-third (1/3) of the building’s roof area. In addition to these instances, the following activities also require a permit(s):

1. Construction of a new residence or an addition to an existing home.
2. Placing or replacing a mobile home on a property.
3. Placing a modular or double-wide mobile home on a property.
4. Moving and placement of a previously constructed residential building on a property. (This also requires a separate moving permit which must be issued simultaneously and is subject to a strict completion period.)
5. Construct a new accessory structure or addition (accessory structures include garages, carports, patio covers, decks, porches, and storage buildings including portable storage buildings of 100 square feet or more).

6. Construction or installation of swimming pools (below or above ground, a 48" high barrier or fence required around pool).

A SITE PLAN IS REQUIRED FOR ITEMS 1 THRU 6

7. Converting accessory areas, such as attached garages, unfinished basements, attics, etc., to habitable spaces.
8. Installation of siding, roofing, fireplaces or solar panels. Repair, alteration, or rehabilitation of a structure that goes beyond the scope of normal maintenance repair, including removing or altering load bearing timbers, replacing support walls, or moving partitions.
9. Demolition of any structure or portion thereof.

Only properly licensed contractors may obtain permits or perform work in Davidson County. However, homeowners may be permitted to perform work on their own personal residence or residential property. Any electrical, plumbing, or mechanical work being performed by a homeowner on a house must be approved by the Chief Inspector or the appropriate Metropolitan Board according to the Metropolitan Code of Laws. Call 862-6517 for more information.

Farm Animals: Common domestic farm animals, exotic and native wildlife are permitted in some residential areas with a minimum lot size of five (5) acres. For information call, 862-6590.

Signs: A sign is any writing (including letter, work, or numerical), pictorial representation (including illustration or decoration); emblem (including device, symbol or trademark); flag (including banner or pennant); inflatable structure; or any other figure of similar character, which is:

1. A Structure or any part thereof, or is attached to,

Sign Permits: Except as otherwise provided for no sign shall be constructed, installed, or altered without first obtaining a zoning permit, a building permit and all other applicable permits. Application shall be made by the owner of the property on which the sign is to be displayed or by the owner's legal representative. After construction of the sign is completed the person constructing the sign shall certify to the Department of Codes Administration that the sign was legally constructed and is within the Code. All signs shall display a permanent compliance tag, to be provided by the Department of Codes Administration, upon final approval of the permit.

Because of the many elements involved in permitting signs, Metro Zoning Review should be called at 862-6510 before any sign is erected.

Signs in the Right-of-Way: It is unlawful to place signs on the public right-of-way. Placement of signs on the right-of-way are subject to removal and / or prosecution.

Rooming and Boarding Houses: A dwelling utilized as a rooming or boarding house must be property zoned. Rooming houses require permits. All residential zone districts limit the number of dwelling units on the property. Conversions of residential or other accessory structures are required to have proper permits prior to construction or occupancy.

Zoning Appeals: Residents are given an opportunity to comment when a zoning appeal is requested in or near their neighborhood. The Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA) reviews cases when an application for a zoning permit has been denied by the Zoning Division of the Metropolitan Codes Department. After an application has been denied, the applicant may make application to the BZA and the case is scheduled for public hearing within 60 days.

Additional information regarding the BZA and their powers and limitations can be found in Chapter 17.40 or the Zoning Code, or on the web at www.nashville.gov.

METRO HISTORICAL COMMISSION

The Metro Historic Commission preserves, protects, and documents the history, historic places, buildings, and neighborhoods of Davidson County through education, technical assistance, and advocacy. The Commission also reviews and approves historic loan applications and historic marker applications, and discusses policies related to historic preservation.

The Commission is composed of 15 members who serve without compensation for a four-year term. Members are appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by a majority vote of the Metro Council. The Commission meets at noon on the third Monday of every other month (January, March, May, July, September, and November).

The Metro Historic Zoning Commission reviews applications to create new historic overlay districts and makes recommendations regarding overlays to the Metro Planning Commission. MHZC adopts historic overlay design guidelines, and reviews and approves preservation permits in historic and conservation districts for new construction, alterations, additions and relocation and demolition of structures. The commission is composed of nine members who serve without compensation for a five-year term. Members are appointed by the Mayor and are confirmed by a majority vote of the Metro Council. The commission meets at 1:30 p.m. on the third Wednesday of the month at the MHZC offices at 3000 Granny White Pike.

GETTING TO KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

The channel also displays Metro Government related information on the message board on a space available basis. However, outside programming is not accepted.

METRO COUNCIL

The Metropolitan Council is the legislative body of Metropolitan Government. Presided over by the Vice-Mayor, the Metro Council consists of five at large representatives and thirty-five district representatives. Members are elected to four-year terms.

Council meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of every month at 7:00 p.m. Meetings are open to the public and held in the old Ben West Library. The Government Access Channel broadcasts these meetings live. Meetings on the first Tuesday of odd –numbered months are reserved for public hearings on zoning matters.

There are three types of overlay districts: historic preservation, neighborhood conservation, and historic landmark. It is important to note that these types of zoning are overlay districts and do not affect land use within a district.

Historic Preservation Overlay District

This applies to sites, buildings, structures, or objects of local, state, or national significance, including structures associated with important individuals. It also applies to structures built with distinctive architectural character or style (e.g. Queen Anne, Italianate, Craftsman, Bungalow, Tudor Revival, and Colonial Revival). Properties listed or eligible for listing in the National Register may qualify as a district. There are three districts designated as historic preservation districts within Davidson County: Edgefield, Second Avenue, and Woodland-in-Waverly.

Neighborhood Conservation Overlay District

This applies to structures and sites that as a collection represent a distinctive architectural character or style, reflect a period of Davidson County’s development, or hold significance for local history. Properties listed or eligible for listing in the National Register may qualify for inclusion in a conservation zoning district, as well as those determined to be locally “worthy of conservation” by the Historical Commission staff. Conservation Zoning districts include (as of summer 2005):

Lockeland Springs-East End, Richland-West End, South Music Row, Woodlawn West, Cherokee Park, Blakemore, Belle Meade Links Triangle, Belmont-Hillsboro, Eastwood and Elmington Place.

Historic Landmark District

Designation as a Historic Landmark District honors a Nashville landmark’s historical significance while protecting the unique character by requiring review of any exterior work on the building. Twenty-nine properties are protected as an Historic Landmark District in Davidson County (as of 2005). For your convenience, these properties are listed on the next page.

- Organize, don't agonize. Sometimes we make one call about a problem and are ready to give up. If something is a problem for you, it might be a problem for others as well. Find them. Form a group. Organize to make government work for you and with you.

Preservation Permits

A permit is required for work done on historic and conservation overlay districts as shown in the table that follows. Staff reviews all applications and assists applicants with meeting the design guidelines.

Permits are reviewed and approved by the commission. If a permit is approved, staff issues the preservation permit within 24 hours. Work must begin within six months from the date of issuance.

MAYOR'S OFFICE OF NEIGHBORHOODS

The mission of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhoods is to improve the quality of life in Nashville's neighborhoods through a more informed, active and involved citizenry and enhanced governmental response to community needs.

Getting Involved as a Neighborhood

- Government cannot "fix" all of our problems. But it is an important tool that we can use to get things done.
- Learn how to build relationships with Metro Council members. Meet with your council representative to build a relationship before you have a neighborhood crisis. Remember that the five at-large Council members also represent you; get to know them well.
- Learn who is responsible for what in Metro Government. There are many Metro departments with a wide range of responsibilities. Use this booklet as a starting point to find out what those departments and their staff do. Take a few neighbors to visit a specific department to understand how things work.
- Find ways to take action in your neighborhood, and then bring in government as a partner. For example, if the condition of your neighborhood is a problem, work with city agencies and neighborhood volunteers to host a cleanup. Or, you and your neighbors can make a list of the serious Codes violations in the neighborhood and report them to the city. Often, having neighborhood partners can make government agencies more effective.

Their mission is to serve the citizens of Metropolitan Nashville by providing affordable housing in a safe environment, and to revitalize and maintain neighborhoods. MDHA provides a number of housing services:

this program. Persons interested in the program should call the Criminal Justice Center Information desk at 862-7811.

Crime Stoppers offers rewards up to $1,000 for information that will solve featured unsolved crimes and leads to the arrest and prosecution of the suspects. Callers can remain anonymous. Tips cannot be taken over the internet. Persons with information should call 74-CRIME (742-7463).

Call 911 When Time Counts: In Metro Davidson County, 911 is an emergency telephone number that should only be used for life and property threatening situations. Dialing 911 will put you directly in touch with police, fire and ambulance services. Non-emergency calls to the Police Department should be made to 862-8600. The non-emergency number for the Fire Department is 862-8585.

Other Services
