PHASE 2 RESULTS

What's Inside

In phase 2 of NashvilleNext, participants rated 34 ideas for Nashville's future, based on the 8,000 visioning ideas generated in phase 1. This is the final report on the information gathered in Phase 2 of NashvilleNext, running from July to September 2013. Public input was gathered at community meetings, public events, and through online surveys.

About Phase 2

Phase 1 of NashvilleNext collected more than 8,000 ideas for Nashville’s future and conducted a statistically valid survey of 1,000 Nashvillians. Planning staff summarized the results of these two efforts into 37 visioning ideas — 3 “givens” (consensus items based on phase 1 (next page)) and 34 ideas for the community to prioritize.

Participants at NashvilleNext community meetings played the “Be the NEXT Mayor of Nashville” game, working in groups to select five priorities, then assembling those priorities into three “campaign planks,” brief visionary statements for Nashville’s future.

Online and paper surveys brought the prioritization exercise to thousands more Nashvillians and extended staff’s ability to organize issue priorities by demographic group.

The results of the priority surveys (page 7-12) and the Mayor Platforms (page 14-84) were used by the NashvilleNext Steering Committee to draft a set of Guiding Principles, which shape the rest of the planning process. The draft Principles are included on page 5 and are open to public comment through Phase 3.

Participation through Phase 2

Participants were able to prioritize visioning ideas in three ways during phase 2. First, participants attending one of six community meetings played our “Be the NEXT Mayor of Nashville” game, prioritizing top five issues with other community members, and then identifying how those priorities fit together into three campaign planks.

Second, participants at public events (such as Back to School Fairs) took a survey asking for their five priorities. Last, Nashvillians could also provide priorities online through email surveys and talk.NashvilleNext.net.

Three givens & vision issues

The three statements below were considered priorities based on overwhelming support in phase 1 and the community survey. The public's support for the 34 vision issues are shown at the right.

Safe communities

All of our residents are safe to go about their lives in their neighborhoods, parks, and shopping areas, because we look out for each other.

Strong public schools

Nashville public schools give all Nashvillians the start they need to succeed in life. Our schools draw new residents to the city.

Efficient government

Metro government serves its people well, giving great customer service, serving as the steward of the public interest, and providing good value for the taxes we pay.

The NashvilleNext process

The diagram below illustrates NashvilleNext’s two-and-a-half-year process. In particular, it shows the relationship between the public process (top) and the supporting processes involving Resource Teams for each plan element and Metro Departments and related agencies.

The public process

Supporting the public process

Resource teams

Driving Forces

Identify key external and internal forces shaping Nashville’s future for each plan element.

Alternate scenarios

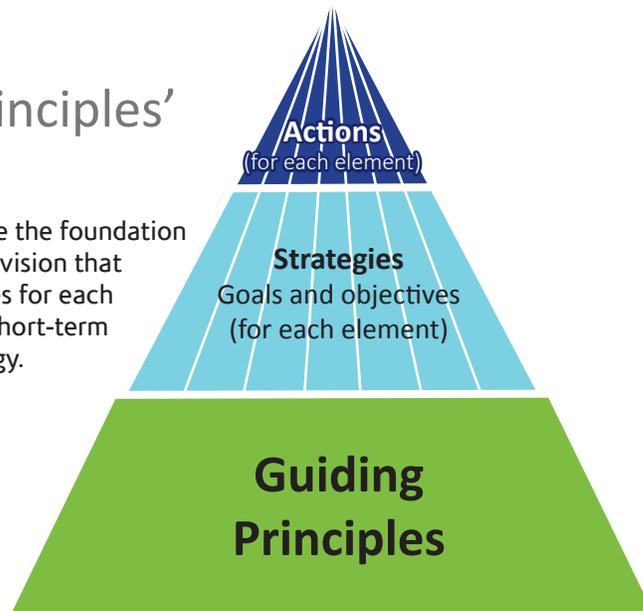

Develop alternative scenarios based on the public’s vision for Nashville’s future.
 The Principles guide the Resource Teams by providing a common set of values for the future.
 Resource Teams will need to show how their alternate scenarios incorporate each Principle.

Draft plan

The Guiding Principles will be included in the strategy section of the draft plan, providing a cross-element view of the future that Nashvillians want.
 The Principles could provide guidance on indicators used to assess progress in implementing the plan.

The Guiding Principles’ role in the plan

The Guiding Principles provide the foundation of the plan — a cross-cutting vision that unites the long-term strategies for each plan element, as well as the short-term actions to pursue each strategy.

DRAFT Guiding Principles

The Guiding Principles are written from the perspective of Nashvillians in 2040, assessing Nashville based on the actions taken to implement Nashville-Next.

The NashvilleNext Steering Committee reviewed all public input from phases 1 and 2 to establish the seven general themes that shape the Guiding Principles. The Committee then used the Mayor Platforms from phase 2 to develop the statements that expand on each theme.

The public is invited to rate and comment on the draft Principles throughout Phase 3 in fall 2013.

Be Nashville

- » Nashville is strong because we lift one another up and help people help themselves.
- » We are strong because of our culture of creativity, respect for history, and optimism for the future.
- » We are strong because of our welcoming culture that represents the best of Southern hospitality and celebrates Nashville's multiculturalism.

Expand Accessibility

- » Nashville is accessible, allowing all Nashvillians to come together to work, to play, to learn, and to create community, regardless of background or ability.
- » Nashville's accessibility extends to transportation, employment and educational opportunities, online capabilities, civic representation, access to nature and recreation and government services.
- » In Nashville, we are all able to participate and contribute to community decision-making and the future of our community.

Create Opportunity

- » Nashville's economy is diverse, dynamic and open. It benefits from our culture of arts, creativity and entrepreneurialism.
- » Our strong workforce and high quality of life make Nashville's economy nationally and internationally competitive.
- » Nashville's success is based on promoting opportunities for individual growth and success, for small and local businesses and entrepreneurs.
- » To provide a foundation for future growth and prosperity, Nashville meets its infrastructure needs in an environmentally responsible way.

Foster Strong Neighborhoods

- » Neighborhoods are the building blocks of our community: they are where we live, work, shop and gather as a community.
- » Our neighborhoods are healthy, safe, affordable and connected – with vibrant parks, welcoming libraries, accessible shopping and employment, valued and protected natural features and strong schools.
- » Our diverse neighborhoods give our community character and grow with us as we move into the future.

Advance Education

- » Nashville recognizes that education is a lifelong endeavor; it is how we prepare our children for tomorrow's challenges, and how we keep our residents ready to successfully participate in the workforce and civic life.
- » Community investment is key to Nashville's success in K-12 education. Neighborhoods, businesses, institutions, non-profits, families, individuals and Metro work to ensure access to opportunity for all children through child care and school choices, transportation options, and engaging Nashvillians in supporting children and families.
- » Life-long learning also benefits from the community's investment in continuing education, retraining opportunities and literacy.
- » Nashville's excellent colleges and universities are community assets that educate our youth and adults, are a tremendous resource for the community and add to the community's prestige.

Champion the Environment

- » Nashville is blessed with natural environments of breath-taking beauty, exceptional parks and greenways, abundant water and agricultural land that supports local food production.
- » The natural landscapes of Nashville – from the Cumberland River to the steep slopes in the west and the lush tree canopy – are part of our identity. They are protected because they contribute to our health and quality of life and provide a competitive advantage to Nashville.
- » Nashville enables sustainable living through transportation options, housing choices, economic and social diversity and thoughtful design of sustainable buildings and infrastructure.

Ensure Equity for All

- » Nashville is stronger because it values diversity in all its forms.
- » All Nashvillians, regardless of age, race, ethnicity, ability, income, gender, sexual orientation, where you were born or where you live, are welcome and their voices are valued.
- » Ensuring equity has been and continues to be central to Nashville's culture. As Nashville changes, we remain committed to equity and inclusion.
- » We are vigilant in protecting human rights for all to provide for inclusive civic life.
- » Nashville ensures that all communities are engaged in decision making and share in the city's growth, prosperity and quality of life.

Key gaps

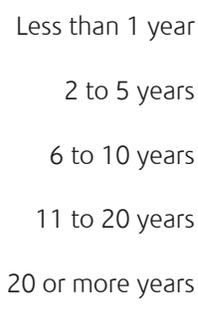

NashvilleNext continues to skew toward families, owners, the well-educated, and older residents.

However, most of these categories improved from phase 1 to phase 2. Notable exceptions include the proportion of residents who live alone and the number of males participating.

Key gaps

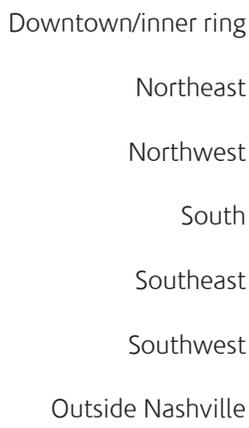

Participation in NashvilleNext across racial/ethnic categories, immigrants, and geographic spread generally improved.

Born in the U.S.?

These, along with the improvements on prior pages, are generally attributed to direct outreach (street teams and community events) and continued building of relationships with diverse organizations who can promote online surveys.

“Be the Next Mayor” Platforms

Nashvillians attending one of the six community meetings in July 2013 or at one of four high school sessions in August 2013 played a game called “Be the NEXT Mayor of Nashville.” Working in groups randomly assigned as they arrived at the meeting, participants worked together to select five priority visioning ideas. They then crafted three statements, called campaign planks, to represent their campaign’s platform for Nashville’s future.

The 204 campaign platforms are listed on the following pages. Each campaign is listed by the meeting location and table number. The number of campaign members are shown, along with the average rating of campaign members (5 is complete support; 1 is complete opposition). Finally, campaigns were able to identify which of the 34 campaign issues were related to each platform.
