

Ideas about the Oceola Area?

Planning Study

The Planning Department is studying the Oceola Area. In the past few years, this area has experienced a lot of redevelopment. Planners are studying current land uses, zoning, land use policies, and infrastructure needs for properties in the study area. Planners want to hear from community members.

Land use policy reflects the community's long-range vision and guides the Planning Commission's actions on zone changes and development requests.

The team's goal is to ensure that policies affecting the Oceola Area accurately reflect how the members of that community want growth and preservation to happen in the future, and that any significant changes are guided by community input and discussion.

Please join us as we host a conversation about the future of the Oceola Area. We want to hear from you about what you would like to see in this area in the future. What can be done to improve your experience today? What should we focus on? What are your priorities?

What are your ideas?

Planners would like to hear your thoughts about:

- New buildings
- Current and future land uses
- Street improvements
- Making it easier to walk or bike
- Infrastructure concerns
