Mission Statement

The Mission of the Metropolitan Nashville Police Department is to provide community-based police products to the public so they can experience a safe and peaceful Nashville.

Mission Values

In carrying out our mission, members of the department will continue to value:

- Organizational Excellence and Professionalism
- The Impartial Enforcement of the Law
- The People We Serve and Each Other
- Problem-Solving Partnerships
- Open Communications
- Ethics and Integrity
To the Citizens of Nashville:

It is my honor to report that overall major crime in Nashville during 2008 fell for an unprecedented fifth consecutive year to the lowest level in 18 years. The simply outstanding work of our police officers and professional support staff, combined with the assistance of citizens in neighborhoods throughout Davidson County, led to reductions in robbery, rape, aggravated assault, larceny, and motor vehicle theft. The overall crime rate, which is based on Nashville’s population estimate, was the lowest since 1985. The violent crime rate was the lowest since 1989. The property crime rate was the lowest since 1979. Criminal homicide increased by one case when compared with 2007. Burglary remained unchanged from 2007 and continues to be at a 40-year low.

The growth of Neighborhood Watch Groups has been critical to our success over the past five years, and 2008 saw a 13.75% increase in the watch group total, which, at the end of the year, stood at 423. Police department staff sponsored or attended 1,424 community meetings during 2008.

Talented, dedicated men and women in all components of the police department are working extraordinarily hard to enhance safety in neighborhoods and roadways. Traffic deaths last year fell by 2.7%. A significant concern continues to be that victims in more than half of the fatal crashes where seatbelts were available (55%) chose not to wear them. The number of DUI arrests in 2008 increased by 12.2%, while injury crashes decreased by 7.6%, the fifth consecutive year of injury crash reduction. Our DUI initiatives, including the extra-duty enforcement program funded by the Governor’s Highway Safety Office, are making a significant difference in saving lives and collision reduction.

As I look at the months ahead, it is clear that the significant impact repeat offenders continue to have on Nashville’s families will be a formidable obstacle to crime reduction efforts in the future. Nearly one-third of the 14,000 persons arrested in 2008 for a violent crime, drug offense or weapons violation were convicted felons who refused to be rehabilitated. The Public Safety Coalition, made up of Tennessee’s police chiefs, sheriffs and prosecutors, will continue asking our state elected officials for relief through changes in sentencing laws. Despite the obstacles, our police department is committed to make every effort to build on our successes through proactive strategies implemented by precinct and component commanders coupled with close community partnerships.

Thank you for your continued and highly valued support. Working together, we will make Nashville safer and even more special for our city’s families and visitors.

East Precinct Officer Kenneth Bray was the Officer of the Year for 2008. Officer Bray’s painstaking search for a homicide suspect’s vehicle led to the arrest of four persons believed responsible for the August murders of Vanderbilt University professor Pierre Colas and his sister, Marie, during a robbery at Colas’ McFerrin Avenue home.

Investigative Services Bureau Investigators of the Year

Homicide/Cold Case Unit Sgt. Pat Postiglione and recently retired Detective Bill Pridemore were the 2008 Investigative Services Bureau Investigators of the Year for their work in solving the 1975 murders of the nine-year-old Marcia Trimble and Vanderbilt student Sarah Des Prez. Thanks to scientific advancements, Jerome Sidney Barrett was identified as a likely suspect in both cases in 2007. He was indicted for the murder of Des Prez in November 2007 and Trimble’s murder last summer. Sgt. Postiglione and Detective Pridemore have meticulously coordinated the investigative work on these cases in recent times and continue to work with prosecutors to bring closure for all concerned.
Officers & Investigators of the Year

- Officers Dennis Shepherd, Rob Morris, and Cindy Huffines were the department’s Police Officers of the Year. These three officers, while working out of the Hermitage Precinct, teamed together to arrest a man believed responsible for several robberies of check cashing businesses and two banks.

- Hermitage Precinct Detective Josh Walters was the Field Operations Bureau Investigator of the Year. Officer Walters posed as a Pizza Hut Employee in July and was attempting a suspicious, high-risk delivery when a gunman quickly approached his undercover pickup truck out of the darkness. Seeing the gun pointed in his direction, and believing that he and another undercover officer inside the truck were in imminent danger of being shot, Officer Walters fired on the would-be robber in self-defense, thus ending the threat. (Officer Walters was not photographed this day due to his undercover assignment at the time).

- Canine Officer Jerry Denton is the Field Operations Bureau Special Operations Officer of the Year. In the early morning hours of June 1st, Officer Denton and his partner “Roscoe,” began tracking an armed home invasion suspect in a driving rain storm. Midway through the track, officer Denton fell down a steep hill in the darkness and cut his leg, which would later require stitches. Despite his injury, Officer Denton and Roscoe continued their search for the suspect, who they ultimately found hiding in the undergrowth of a wooded area.

- Police Operations Coordinator Glendel Greer is the department’s Professional Support Employee of the year. In her position with the Cold Case/Homicide Unit, Ms. Greer maintains all records and assists detectives in organizing the immense amount of paperwork associated with the unit’s very complex investigations. Ms. Greer also volunteered countless hours to organizing the first and second annual Law Enforcement Talent Showcases, which benefited charities for domestic violence and children.
Precinct of the Year

Mayor Karl Dean and Chief Ronal Serpas bestowed the 2008 Precinct of the Year award to the men and women of the East Precinct, which led the police department in crime reduction with a calendar year decline of 11.4%.

A number of criteria are used to determine Precinct of the Year, including the annual percentage change in major crime, the percentage change in total arrests, an evaluation of drug equipment and drug violation charges, the number of felony convictions, the percentage change in curfew and truancy violations, the change in the number of traffic stops, and the number of founded disciplinary matters as the result of internal and citizen complaints.

Due to the varying sizes and manpower of the six precincts, a weighted formula is used to assure across the board fairness in determining the winner.

East Precinct Commander Bob Nash (center) receives Precinct of the Year awards from Chief Ronal Serpas and Mayor Karl Dean.
Precinct Awards

The award for the largest increase in drug equipment and narcotics violation charges during 2008 went to the Hermitage Precinct.

One way to measure the enforcement efficiency of a precinct is the combined analysis of its total arrests, warrants served, curfew and truancy arrests, and Traffic Stops. The winner of this category was the North Precinct.

The award for the most significant increase in self-initiated activity during 2008 went to the Central Precinct.

The award for leading the police department in the area of quality felony investigations went to the West Precinct. During 2008, the work of West Precinct officers and detectives resulted in a conviction rate of 85%. The West Precinct placed second in the overall Precinct of the Year calculation. The margin between first and second was 2 thousandths of a point.
Sergeant Brenda Steinbrecher Receives Theodore Roosevelt Association Police Award

On October 19, 1999, Sergeant Steinbrecher was on duty, stopped in traffic on I-65 South near I-40, when her vehicle was violently struck from behind by a tractor-trailer rig. As a result, Steinbrecher lost or had damage to eight teeth, suffered hearing loss, and sustained multiple injuries to her head, shoulder, knee, and hip. After months of recuperation, she returned to work in July 2000.

“I was scared that the department was going to try to pension me after the truck accident,” Steinbrecher said. “I came back still in therapy---but I tried to fudge that.”

The following winter, Steinbrecher suffered a dislocated hip. A full body scan revealed an abnormality in her brain, and subsequent tests confirmed a tumor. She had surgery in February 2001 and returned to work in early March. In August 2001, therapy for the hip injury sidelined her briefly, but she was back on the job a month later.

In February 2007, Sergeant Steinbrecher was diagnosed with breast cancer. She underwent surgery on April 6. She resumed work at the police department on May 29.

Speaking of her chosen profession, Steinbrecher said, “I can’t imagine doing anything else but police work, and I love being the first responder. I can’t imagine not being around my fellow officers, involved with them, helping them. This is my life!”

Steinbrecher currently serves as a day watch patrol supervisor in the North Precinct. North Commander Louise Kelton says Steinbrecher continues to inspire those who work with and for her.

“Sergeant Steinbrecher faced each life-threatening illness with the same tenacity and tremendous courage that she brings to the Metro police department every day,” Kelton said. “She truly believes in making a difference in the lives of others through hard work and accountability.”

Chief Ronal Serpas said it is the perseverance of officers like Brenda Steinbrecher who make policing the noblest profession on earth.

“Sergeant Steinbrecher’s dedication and devotion to Nashville’s citizens and this police department, in the face of very difficult and serious medical issues, serve as a motivation to all of us to be the best we can be. I am tremendously proud of Brenda and her love of police work,” Chief Ronal Serpas said.
Mother’s Against Drunk Driving

Mother’s Against Drunk Driving (MADD) held their annual awards honoring law enforcement officers for their commitment to DUI enforcement and prevention. The following Metro Nashville Police officers received certificates for their efforts, including DUI arrests each officer made from January 1, 2008 to December 31, 2008.

- Carey Adkerson 109 DUI arrests
- James T. Cole 351 DUI arrests

Police Graduates

Session 56

The Metro police department’s officer ranks grew by 31 on March 6th, 2008, as the city’s newest police officers graduated from five months of training, received their badges, and took the oath of office. The new officers of Session 56 began training on October 1, 2007. They spent the next five to six months with precinct field training officers before patrolling the streets by themselves.

Session 57

The graduation ceremony for Recruit Session 57 was held on July 17th, 2008. It was the largest MNPD graduating class in more than five years and was a very special standing-room-only event at Tusculum Hills Baptist Church. Some of our veteran officers had a keen interest in that night. Commander Bob Nash’s son, Andrew, Sgt. Marvin Keith’s son-in-law, Caleb Foster, and Officer Crystal Smith’s stepson, Brandon, were among the 46 new Metro officers receiving their badges and taking the Oath of Office.

Session 58

Among the most meaningful ceremonies a police department conducts is the graduation of new police officers from five months of rigorous academic and physical training. Mayor Dean and Chief Serpas, along with hundreds of family members and MNPD personnel, attended such a ceremony November 3rd, 2008 at Christ Church in South Nashville as we welcomed the 39 new Metro officers from Trainee Session 58. Including Session 58, we graduated 116 new officers during calendar year 2008. The fact that we continue to recruit, hire, and graduate new officers is a testament to the priority Mayor Dean and the Metropolitan Council place on public safety. While the economy has necessitated a hiring freeze across Metropolitan Government, Mayor Dean has specifically exempted police officer trainees.

Session 59

Session 59 started training on October 1st and is on track to graduate in March. Three additional trainee classes are scheduled for this year: Session 60 on February 16; Session 61 on June 1; and Session 62 on October 1. While staffing numbers fluctuate due to retirements, resignations and new hires, as of today, 1,291 of the departments 1,315 budgeted sworn positions are filled.
Deputy Chief Joey Bishop Retires

As most of you know by now, Deputy Chief Joey Bishop brought an outstanding career with the Metropolitan Police Department to a close November 1st, 2008. He became Chief of Police in Columbia, Tennessee.

Chief Serpas stated, “Joey has been a tremendous asset to me and this police department’s executive staff during our five years together. His tenure of service with the MNPD has been very impressive. Joey was hired 28 years ago the month he retired. He spent time at the South Precinct and on the staff of the Training Academy prior to his promotion to sergeant in 1987. After becoming a lieutenant in 1989, Joey supervised details at the West and Central stations before being promoted to captain over Central in 1998. He was promoted to assistant chief over the Investigative Services Bureau in May 2001 and was appointed by me to deputy chief over the Field Operations Bureau in May 2004. Our department has undergone a number of changes and achieved many successes over the past five years. Deputy Chief Bishop’s leadership has most certainly played a role in those successes. At this time of transition, I want each of you to know that I am proud and deeply appreciative of all your hard work and commitment to the safety of Nashville’s families and visitors.”

Police Dog Feder retired from the Bomb Squad on November 3, 2008. He was born in Belgium on Halloween of 1998 and was assigned for training in early 2002. Feder played a big role in clearing areas for many dignitaries including President Bush, Vice President Cheney, President-Elect Obama, and other high level government officials. Feder also cleared large sports venues including Bristol Motor Speedway and participated in school demonstrations for children.

I’ll Wait

A police K9 explained to St. Peter
I’d rather stay here, outside the Pearly Gate.
I can’t come in yet, you see, as my partner is not yet with me.
I’ll be very quiet as I sit and wait,
I’ll watch over him and pray that he’s late.
Because those who love him dearly,
Still need his protection.
And the ones who don’t know him, still need his help.
I’ll be very patient and wait,
I’ll never let out a whimper or yelp.
I’ll be chewing my celestial bone,
Waiting for my partner to come home.
It would not be right if I went in alone,
For without my partner you see;
It just would be worth Heaven to me,
Without crossing the gates right by his side.

New Recruiting Office

The Metropolitan Police Department’s first-ever recruiting office in a shopping mall was unveiled November 18th at Hickory Hollow Mall. The store front office, which is located across from the food court next to Sears, will be periodically staffed by officers prepared to answer questions about the qualifications and benefits of joining the police department. The office will also provide an area for South Precinct officers to compete paperwork and reports.

Recruitment Open House

What an honor it was March 22, 2008 to welcome over 200 individuals who attended the Recruitment Open House. One hundred eighty-four of those individuals signed up as having true interest in a law enforcement career with the MNPD and 69 completed a trial run of the physical ability course. The October 2007 open house had approximately the same attendance with 32% of attendees actually going forward and taking the civil service test.

The night would not have been such a success without the support of Chief Serpas, the Executive staff, Background & Recruitment staff, Training Academy staff, and the many officers who showcased their various units.

Sgt. Majorie Haworth talks to potential recruits during the open house.

Several components of the MNPD were on display during the Recruitment Open House.
Donations....

The Metropolitan Police Department accepted the donation of a specially equipped “bait car” from Allstate Insurance company to be used in auto theft investigations. “Bait Cars” are used by police agencies in highly populated areas where auto theft is more likely to occur. The vehicles feature technology that allows for them to be remotely disabled moments after thieves try to steal them.

The West End Synagogue made a $400 donation to Nashville’s 100 Club in honor of Chief Serpas helping the Jewish community of Nashville celebrate the holiday of Passover by purchasing leavened products, known as “chametz,” during the eight days of Passover. Jews are prohibited from owning leavened products such as bread, cereals, even beer, during the holiday. A rabbi is given the power of attorney to sell all of the products to a non-Jew until Passover has ended. After the holiday ended, Rabbi Ulmer bought back the leavened products from Chief Serpas. The 100 Club assists police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty, as well as officers who receive serious and disabling injuries while working to protect our community.

Rabbi Moshe Ulmer presents Chief Ronal Serpas with a check for $400 to benefit The 100 Club.

Local Hero

Bank of America honored Deputy Chief Louise Kelton as a Local Hero through its Neighborhood Excellence Initiative Award Program. Kelton was recognized as a community leader who contributes significantly to the health of Nashville’s neighborhoods. She was nominated by staff at the North Precinct, which she commanded until her appointment to deputy chief. As a Local Hero, Kelton had the privilege of directing a $5,000 donation from the Bank of America Charitable Foundation to a nonprofit entity of her choice. Kelton selected the 100 Club of Nashville, which was founded 29 years ago to aid the families of Nashville’s police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty, as well as officers and firefighters who receive serious, traumatic and disabling injuries while working to protect our community. The 100 Club is continuing to assist Officer Danita Marsh in the construction of a special accessible home. Officer Marsh was critically wounded and paralyzed in October 2006 while assisting a domestic violence victim. "Bank of America has long held the belief that a healthy community is a healthy place to do business, and we are committed to creating real impact in the Nashville community,” said John Stein, Tennessee President at Bank of America. “The Neighborhood Excellence Initiative underscores our belief that investing in leadership is a sound practice, whether building the capacity of our nonprofit organizations, developing current and emerging community leaders, or preparing our youth for the future.”
As of August 1, 2008, a total of 343 officers have completed the new Taser certification classes being taught at the Training Academy. “As I stated in June when the department began redeploying Tasers to officers, there is no doubt the devices help reduce injuries to suspects and officers by preventing a physical fight with resistant arrestees,” said Chief Serpas. “I am aware that some officers have questioned why the Tasers the department is now using are equipped with cameras. Camera-equipped Tasers best serve the police department and the community by recording the interaction with the suspect(s) after Taser deployment. The cameras will help to quickly resolve any false allegations against officers and, at the same time, help reassure the community that the department has taken steps to ensure that Tasers will be used wisely and correctly. A number of law enforcement agencies throughout the country now use camera-equipped Tasers.”
National Night Out

National Night Out is a unique crime/drug prevention event sponsored by the National Association of Town Watch. National Night Out is a great chance to thank citizens for their support and partnering with us to attack crime. National Night Out is designed to heighten crime and drug prevention awareness; generate support for, and participate in, local anticrime programs; strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships; and send a message to criminals letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back.

Child Safety Seat Fair

The child safety seat fair July 12 at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church on Nolensville Pike was well attended. Citizens were provided free seat inspections to ensure that children receive maximum protection while riding in vehicles. El Protector Program Officers Juan Borges and Rafael Fernandez organized the event with the assistance of Traffic Officers Michelle Steidl, Don Davidson, and Carey Steel.
FOP Andrew Jackson Police Youth Camp

Each summer disadvantaged children are able to enjoy a free week at camp where they participate in many fun activities including team sports, swimming, and canoeing. Officers devote time and attention to the kids ages eight through 12 developing lasting friendships and future ambassadors for the community. Thanks to all who made the six one-week camps so successful. Many components of the department took time to visit camp including members of Mounted Patrol, Aviation, Canine, and SWAT.

MNPD Serves the Community

Soles4Souls Inc.

Over the period of a few months, the Metro Nashville Police Department collected over 2,400 pairs of shoes for Soles4Souls to distribute to the hurting worldwide! In addition to that, the Police Department’s liaison, Sergeant Kris DeLap, connected with Davidson County Sheriff’s Department and also got them on board. The show of support from the Nashville Law Enforcement community has been huge and their contribution to Soles4Souls mission of “Changing the World One Pair at a Time” will forever be appreciated!

Thanksgiving Food Baskets

The Nashville chapter of the National Black Police Association (NBPA) conducted its annual delivery of Thanksgiving food baskets to 400 needy families November 25. Food basket recipients were recommended and screened by staff at metro Social Services. Each basket contained a 15-pound turkey, two boxes of macaroni & cheese, two boxes of mashed potatoes, two boxes of stuffing mix, ten canned goods, cranberry sauce and bread. More than 3,000 families have received food baskets through this program over the past ten years.
Shop with a Cop Program

Nearly 60 underprivileged children purchased Christmas gifts at the Wal-Mart at 4040 Nolensville Pike during the annual Shop with a Cop program sponsored by the Andrew Jackson Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police. Many of the children, who were between the ages of 6 and 13, attended last summer’s FOP camp. After the shopping trip, the officers and children wrapped presents at the FOP lodge on Welshwood Drive.
Drill and Ceremony Team

In celebration of all the men and women who have served our country as members of the armed forces, members of the Drill and Ceremony Team marched in the Veterans Day Parade. The Metropolitan Nashville Police Drill and Ceremony Team’s primary function is to honor the lives and memories of those killed in the line of duty. In addition to their primary duties, the Drill and Ceremony Team represents the Metropolitan Nashville Police Department and the city of Nashville in formal ceremonies such as honor guard, color guard, parades, funerals, and civic events. Members are volunteers from virtually all units within the department. Drill and Ceremony Team members are trained in basic rifle drills, police ceremonies, military ceremonies, and other related tasks.

Season to Remember

The 14th annual Season to Remember memorial service for families who have lost loved ones to homicide was held December 11 at Centennial Park. The memorial service, sponsored by the police department’s Victim Intervention Program, the District Attorney’s Office, You Have the Power...Know How to Use It, Inc., and the U.S. Attorney’s Office, helps families ensure that homicide victims are not forgotten during the rush of the holiday season. During the service, relatives and friends of the victims placed Christmas ornaments on a tree in the Children’s Garden in remembrance of their loved ones. There was also a lighting of the Menorah to commemorate Hanukkah, and the Kinara to commemorate Kwanzaa. Since 1995, families and friends who have lost someone to homicide have come together to place Christmas, Hanukkah, and Kwanzaa remembrance decorations/ornaments in memory of their loved ones on a special evergreen tree.
2008 Polar Bear Plunge

Thanks to all Middle Tennesseans who participated in the 9th Annual Polar Bear Plunge on February 16th at Nashville Shores on Percy Priest Lake. Over $12,000 was raised to benefit Tennessee Special Olympics. Sponsored by the Metropolitan Nashville Police Law Enforcement Torch Run program, the event featured a plunge by participants into Percy Priest Lake in anything but a wetsuit. Plungers collected a minimum of $25 in donations for Special Olympics and they all hit the water at noon. Spectators joined at the cost of a $5 donation. The Metropolitan Police Department has a long-standing commitment to raise awareness for Special Olympics, the nation’s largest provider of athletic events and sporting activities for mentally challenged children and young adults. East Precinct Sergeant Anna-Maria Williams made the plunge dressed as Xena Warrior Princess after raising $2,600 in donations! Businesses who sponsored this year’s plunge in addition to Nashville Shores are, Coca Cola, The Gold Rush Restaurant, and Krispy Kreme.

MNPD & US Army Reserve Sign Partnership Agreement

Chief Ronal Serpas and Major General Adolph McQueen of the U.S. Army Reserve formalized a partnership agreement between the police department and Army Reserve to help both recruit the best, brightest, and well-trained candidates possible.

The Memorandum of Agreement recognizes that members of the Army Reserve, through their specialized skills from assignments including military police service, can be significant assets to the Metropolitan Police Department. The agreement provides that the Army Reserve will inform its prospective enlists that the Metropolitan Nashville Police Department is an active participant in its Employer Partnership Program. The police department agrees to interview all qualified Army Reserve soldiers consistent with the department’s existing hiring policies. Should there be no employment opportunities at the time of a soldier’s completion of Army Reserve specialized training, the police department will maintain the individual’s application information and advise him/her when employment opportunities become available.

The Metropolitan Police Department and the 200th Military Police Command will also hold joint recruiting seminars from time to time at schools and career fairs.

Chief Ronal Serpas & Major General Adolph McQueen signed the partnership agreement during a ceremony at the North Precinct.

“Thanks to the commitment of Mayor Dean and the Metro Council, our department’s aggressive hiring program is very much continuing as we seek the best candidates possible to become Nashville police officers,” Chief Serpas said. “This partnership with the Army Reserve significantly enhances that effort by helping spread the word about us to those soldiers who have proven themselves through military channels and want to transition to work in local law enforcement.”

Said Major General Adolph McQueen, “This partnership with the Metropolitan Nashville Police Department enhances the Army Reserve’s ability to recruit, train and retain the skill-rich law enforcement officers we both need. This is a win-win relationship.”

Other agencies that have signed or are in the process finalizing similar agreements with the Army Reserve include the Metropolitan Washington, D.C. Police, Knoxville Police, New York City Police, Memphis Police, California Highway Patrol, and Ft. Lauderdale, Florida Police.
Re-Accreditation Assessment

Recognizing the Metropolitan Nashville Police Department’s commitment to law enforcement excellence, professionalism, and state-of-the-art practices, the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc. (CALEA), reaccredited the department for a three-year period ending in 2011.

The Commission took the action at its summer meeting in Boca Raton, Florida, after reviewing the report of an April Metro Police Department inspection by three CALEA assessors, and after hearing from Chief Ronal Serpas, who appeared before the panel on July 26th.

At the conclusion of the hearing, CALEA Commissioner Louis Dekmar, who chaired the review of the Metro Police Department, told Chief Serpas and the department’s accreditation team, “You are an example of an outstanding agency that makes professional law enforcement proud.”

In their report to the Commission, the assessors, who spent four full days in April examining and reviewing all aspects of the department’s policy, procedures, and operations, found the MNPD to be in compliance with 344 CALEA standards. There were no noncompliance issues.

Annual Awards Ceremony

More than 80 citizens and police officers were honored during the annual awards ceremony. Chief Serpas and Mayor Dean handed out plaques, certificates, and uniform ribbons on April 24, 2008 to award winners who were recognized for heroism, bravery, and outstanding acts performed during 2007.

Here are just a few examples of their tremendous efforts:

Jerry McEwen – Citizen Commendation Award – When Jerry McEwen saw a woman engaged in a fight with a man over her purse in a Kroger parking lot last December 2007, he didn’t think twice about rushing to the victim’s aid. Mr. McEwen had no idea that the man he was about to confront was a violent ex-convict who had been paroled just months earlier. Seeing that his escape was in jeopardy, the robber pulled a long knife and callously stabbed Mr. McEwen in the chest. The wound was fatal. The police department salutes Jerry McEwen for his bravery and giving his life to assist a fellow Nashvillian who was under attack.

Kamaya Nicole Williams – Citizen Commendation Award – Seven-year old Kamaya Williams’ calm, immediate action is responsible for her mother being alive today. A visit by the mother’s former boyfriend turned to horror when he pulled a gun and shot Kamaya’s mom in the head, not once, but twice. Kamaya quickly found her mother’s cell phone and dialed 911 as the gunman fled. Once officers arrived, Kamaya provided exact detail as to that had occurred inside the home. Thanks to this brave little girl, her mother survived life-threatening injuries, and the man responsible for inflicting them now stands convicted of attempted first-degree murder.
East Precinct Flex Team

Six members of the East Precinct’s Flex Team are responsible for a 500 pound marijuana seizure that was precipitated by the running of a stop sign. The motorist, who was pulled over by Officers Marty Reed and Jason Wong, had information about neighborhood drug activity. The Flex Team was given clearance to follow up on the investigation and, within days, their efforts resulted in the seizure of 500 pounds of marijuana from a Nashville apartment complex. These officers made this case without any formal training on major drug investigations. It is a classic case of looking well beyond a traffic stop.

The keen eyes of Metro Police helicopter pilot Johnny Hansel led to the seizure of 44 marijuana plants with a street value of approximately $35,200. Officer Hansel spotted the grow operation in a wooded area in the 100 block of Cheyenne Boulevard in the Madison Area. The plants were pulled by ground officers. The Aviation Unit performs routine patrols during the marijuana growing season to search for suspicious activity on the ground.

On the night of January 29, Sgt. Kerry Fowler and his partner Izzy were called to the Metro airport to check a twin-engine Cessna airplane that had exhibited suspicious travel patterns before landing in Nashville. Izzy inspected the exterior of the plane and alerted to the positive presence of drug odor coming from inside. The three persons who traveled in the aircraft were brought back to the airport from a local motel. The owner of the plane gave officers permission to search it. Three suitcases were removed. Izzy inspected them and alerted to the presence of drug odor coming from each one. The suitcases were subsequently opened pursuant to a search warrant and were found to contain more than 150 pounds of cocaine. Sgt. Fowler and his partner Izzy have been named the U.S. Police Canine Association’s national drug detection for the first quarter of 2008.

The man believed to be the “Wooded Rapist,” who has eluded capture for 14 years and is suspected in at least 13 rape cases in Davidson, Williamson, and Wilson counties, is now in police custody. Robert Jason Burdick, 38, of 314 Ash Grove Court in South Nashville, was arrested May 1st while traveling eastbound on I-24 in Rutherford County. Rutherford County’s Interstate Interdiction Unit made the stop at the request of Metro & Brentwood detectives who received word shortly after 9 a.m. from the TBI Crime Laboratory that Burdick’s DNA matched biological samples recovered from many of the crime scenes. Burdick was turned over to investigators from Metro, Brentwood, Wilson County, and the TBI.

The “Wooded Rapist” has victimized a number of women between at least 1994 and February of this year. He most often would break into victims’ homes in the darkness. The major break that led to the identification of Burdick as a suspect in the rape cases came during a traffic stop by Brentwood Police Officer Elliott Hamm on Meadowlake Road at 1:30 a.m. Monday, April 29th. An alert citizen in the Meadowlake subdivision called 911 after seeing a suspicious person, dressed in black, wearing a mask, and carrying a flashlight. Officer Hamm stopped Burdick’s Jeep as it was leaving the area. Burdick claimed that he had been attending a party in the area and had to park on the street. Burdick refused Officer Hamm’s request to search the Jeep. Officer Hamm meticulously recorded Burdick’s information, allowed him to proceed, and then forwarded Burdick’s details to the Brentwood Police Department’s Criminal Investigations Division. That stop prompted around-the-clock surveillance of Burdick by Metro and Brentwood detectives, who have been working very closely together on the Wooded Rapist cases since 1999. Robert Jason Burdick is a principal in WB Technologies, a company located at 2201 Murfreesboro Pike that specializes in burglar alarm technology. District Attorneys General Torry Johnson in Nashville, Kim Helper in Williamson County, and Tommy Thompson in Wilson County, are in discussions regarding additional charges and the prosecution of Burdick. At this point so far, Burdick is officially charged with the December 27, 2006, attack at an Otter Creek Road home and the November 19, 2007, attack at a Fairbrook Drive Home. More charges are currently pending.

On June 6, 2008, Davidson County District Attorney General Victor S. “Torry” Johnson and Metro Police Chief Ronal Serpas announced the indictment of Jerome Barrett in connection with the February 1975 homicide of nine-year-old Marcia Trimble. A Davidson County Grand Jury heard the case against Barrett on that Tuesday and presented a sealed indictment charging him with first-degree murder and felony murder. The sealed indictment became public this morning when Barrett was served with a capias by Cold Case Unit Sergeant Pat Postiglione, Detective Bill Pridemore, and Commander Mickey Miller. Barrett, 61, is currently incarcerated in the Davidson County jail awaiting trial for the February 2, 1975, murder of Vanderbilt University student Sarah Des Prez. “The murder of Marcia Trimble is one that affected the entire Nashville community,” Johnson said. “It’s a case that no one has forgotten. For the benefit of the Trimble family, I am pleased to be able to make this announcement today.” “For the past 33 years, more than two generations of police officers devoted thousands upon thousands of hours of investigative work to solving Marcia Trimble’s murder,” Serpas said. “I spoke to Virginia Trimble shortly after arriving in Nashville in 2004 and assured her this department would never give up on Marcia’s case or any other unsolved homicide.” “Today, I express my gratitude to Commander Miller, who, as a Homicide supervisor, spent a number of years pursuing leads in this case. I also thank Sergeant Postiglione and Detective Pridemore, both from our Cold Case Unit, for meticulously coordinating the crucial investigative work over the past several months. This is an important day for the Trimble family and Nashville as a whole,” Serpas said. Marcia Trimble was delivering cookies when she disappeared on February 25, 1975. After weeks of extensive searches, her body was discovered in a Green Hills garage on Estes Road on March 30, 1975. In the years since she was killed, Metro police have continued to actively investigate this case. It was recent scientific evidence that has connected Barrett to Marcia’s murder. No further arrests are expected in this case. Barrett will be arraigned on the new indictment in coming weeks. He is set to go on trial for the murder of Sarah Des Prez in October 2008. Both cases will be prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney General Tom Thurman.
Citizen Police Academy

Fifty-three Nashvillians graduated from the 21st session of the Metropolitan Police Department’s Citizen Police Academy. Mayor Dean and Chief Serpas congratulated the graduates who attended 2 ½-hour classes one night a week for eleven weeks to gain a much better understanding of how their police department operates. They heard presentations on a variety of topics, including gang enforcement, community policing, vice/drugs/prostitution, domestic violence, the judicial process, officer survival, and criminal investigations. Class members also visited the Emergency Communications Center and the Police Department’s Academy. Including this class, 931 citizens from throughout Nashville have completed the Citizen Police Academy since its inception in September, 1995.

Certificate of Appreciation & Chief Coins

Certificates of appreciation and Chief Coins for outstanding service were presented to Volunteer Chaplains Bishop Hal Robinson, Reverend Harvey Butler, Elder Howard Owens, and Elder Percy Davis. New Volunteer Chaplains Joey Johnson, Darrell Howse, John McCroskey, Carlos Jones, Felecia Fregene, Johnathan Rogers, John Cross, Francis Merritt, and Anibal Pena were recognized for their completion of the chaplain training program.
Chief Ronal Serpas Inducted into Pi Alpha Alpha

Chief Ronal Serpas was honorarily inducted into Tennessee State University’s Chapter of Pi Alpha Alpha, the National Honor Society for Public Affairs and Administration. Chief Serpas is only the fourth individual to receive this distinction. Chief Serpas, who holds a doctorate in the field of Urban Studies with an emphasis in Urban Crime from Louisiana State University at New Orleans, was recognized for his leadership of the Metropolitan Police Department since 2004.

Overall major crime in the city has fallen each year of Chief Serpas’ tenure. The purpose of Pi Alpha Alpha is to encourage and recognize outstanding scholarship and accomplishment in public affairs and administration, and to foster integrity, professionalism, and effective performance in the conduct of government and related public service activities.

2008 Reported Index Crimes

Overall in Nashville and Davidson County, reported index crimes decreased by 2.3% from calendar year 2007 to 2008. Major crimes fell for the 5th straight year and were at the lowest level since 1990 (18 years). Violent and property crime counts both decreased 5.2% and 1.5% respectively. Rape, robbery, aggravated assault, larceny, and motor vehicle theft all demonstrated decreases. Murder was the only offense category that increased. At the same time, the total physical arrests increased by 1.75% from 2007 to 2008. A record high 710 incident numbers per sworn strength were issued during 2008 (a 9.2% increase from 2007 to 2008.) Rape was at its lowest level since 1980 (28 years) and decreased 6.5%. Motor vehicle theft was down 17.5% and was the lowest since 1985 (23 years). Robbery decreased by 8.6%, aggravated assault decreased by 3.7%, and larceny was down .02%. Burglary remained unchanged from the record low reported in 2007. The 2008 statistics likewise show that the number of burglaries is at its lowest level since 1968 (now a 40 year low). On the other hand, murder increased by one offense from 73 to 74 (1.4%).

However, if one assesses the crime rate determined by comparing reported crimes against Davidson County population estimates, females over 14 years of age population estimates for rape, and the number of registered vehicles for auto theft, significant decreases can be noted. Auto theft was at its lowest rate ever since inception of the Metropolitan Government of Nashville and Davidson County in 1963. Furthermore, burglary was at its lowest crime rate since 1965 (43 years). The property crime rate was the lowest since 1979, a 29 year low. Rape was at its lowest rate since 1978 for a 30 year low.

In 2008, 72 persons died in 67 fatal crashes. Motor vehicle crash related deaths decreased for the third year in a row (2.7%) while the number of fatal crashes increased by one from 66 to 67 (1.5%). This decrease in motor vehicle related deaths and fatal crashes occurred during a period that officers stepped up traffic enforcement initiatives throughout the city. Driving Under the Influence (DUI) arrests increased 12.2%.

Part One Offenses

Because of their seriousness and frequency of occurrence, these seven crimes, called Part One Offenses, serve as a basis for indicating the nation’s crime rate. The FBI uses Part One totals to calculate the crime index for cities in the United States and to make comparisons.

These charts depict a yearly summary for the past five years of reported criminal offenses in Nashville using Uniform Crime Reporting definitions and standards.

2008 UCR Stats:

Homicide = 74
Aggravated Assault = 5,621
Burglary = 6,243
Larceny = 24,797
Rape = 317
Robbery = 2,378
Auto Theft = 2,324

What is a Police Officer?

Our hero police officers risk their lives every day to protect and serve us. They are subjected to stresses, pressures, and dangers that few of us can imagine. They are fathers, brothers, sons, uncles...... They are mothers, sisters, daughters, aunts...
You go to work in a suit and tie and carry a brief case. They go to work with a bulletproof vest, pepper spray, and Glocks strapped to their waist.
You work at a desk with a comfortable chair. Their office has four wheels, four doors, lights, and sirens.
Police officers are human just like the rest of us. They have families they come home to and children waiting for them at the door.
When the weather is awful and you stay inside drinking coffee or hot chocolate, they are out there protecting us and helping anyone in need as they put their own safety at risk in the rain.... Or the snow...
They comfort you when tragedy strikes.... And some officers will make the ultimate sacrifice risking it all to save another or a fellow brother...
“Officer down, officer needs help” are the words that can change lives forever.
Words that remain ever present in the minds and hearts of the police family.
We will forever be thankful for all they have done... We salute you....
