

A weekly selection of issues and activities relevant to local planning in Nashville and Davidson County

Issue #142
February 15, 2011

More streets are “complete”

A growing number of cities are adopting the “Complete Streets” concept, which holds that streets should be designed for use by everyone - not just motorized traffic.

Sidewalk rage

It’s like road rage - but on foot.

Building a lower-carbon future

A discussion of urbanism and climate change with planner, urban designer, architect, and author Peter Calthorpe.

Questions, comments, or link suggestions: craig.owensby@nashville.gov

The Metro Nashville-Davidson County Planning Department publishes this weekly digest to inform members of the Planning Commission, Metro Council, Board of Zoning Appeals, and other interested parties about planning and growth issues in other communities which could apply to our city and region, with particular emphasis on appropriate development, smart growth, multimodal transportation, and other information which will help us build a sustainable future and a more livable city.