December Report Highlights

An RFP Interest Questionnaire was issued to gauge interest, measure capacity, and ascertain the ability to provide case management, resource referral, and housing navigation for 80 to 120 residents of interim housing. This includes the provision of outreach to encampments selected by the CoC Prioritization Team for a housing surge, as well as the onboarding of the encampment residents into interim housing at site(s) specified by OHS. The awarded organization will also be responsible for housing navigation services for these residents, as the ultimate goal is to assist these individuals in obtaining permanent housing. The submission deadline was 12/6/2024. Applications have been received and are under review. Negotiation meetings have been scheduled with applicants with the resolution supporting this going before Metro Council in January of 2025.

The Cold Weather Shelter exemplifies compassion in action, providing warmth, safety, and dignity to those facing the harsh realities of winter. Between November 29 and December 6, 2024, the shelter served 1,308 guests, including 516 unique individuals. This vital effort would not be possible without the extraordinary dedication of volunteers who go above and beyond to make a difference. You can help by volunteering at WeGo Central to guide individuals with bus routes (sign up through Hands On Nashville) or donating hygiene products. Sign up via Hands On Nashville. Donations: Hygiene products are accepted on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:00 AM to 11:00 AM at 3230 Brick Church Pike. S Text Alerts: Text OHSALERT to 888-777 for updates on shelter openings. Hotline: Call (615) 862-6391.

OHS continues to increase the community's data collection by expanding the number of access points through outreach efforts, utilizing the HMIS data system as the primary database for Metro's Cold Weather Overflow Shelter, and continuing to work with the Nashville Rescue Mission on their data import into HMIS. This has both created a more complete picture of homelessness in Nashville and has also allowed us to capture data on individuals experiencing unsheltered homelessness for an average of five years or more. In just one week, data for 516 unduplicated individuals was captured. "You can't find solutions to something you can't actually see, so having this data will give us our clearest understanding ever of people experiencing and at risk of homelessness in Nashville—and that is hugely impactful," said Mayor O'Connell. Increasing data coverage is essential for three key reasons: 1) Connecting people to services more quickly: Improved data allows us to link individuals to vital services, resources, and housing options in our community with greater efficiency. 2) Assessing resource needs: Enhanced data coverage helps gauge the resources required to address this complex issue locally. As homelessness grows nationally, we must fully understand the severity of the problem to request adequate funding. 3) Securing federal funding: Increasing bed coverage in our local application for federal funds is the most strategic way to gain additional resources for Nashville.

A recent review of these programs showed that an error had been made in identifying the ending date of the CARES funding and the beginning of the ARP funding. As such, the number served under the ARP funding has been edited to reflect the correct number served.
