2025 STATE OF HOMELESSNESS COMMUNITY REPORT

Showcasing progress, performance, challenges, and future strategies to drive sustainable growth and long-term success.

Prepared By:
Office of Homeless Services

Dear partners,

It is my honor to welcome you to Nashville/Davidson County's 2025 State of Homelessness Symposium. This gathering marks a step forward in our journey as a community to continue building and expanding our capacity to end homelessness in Nashville.

Over the past year, our community has made tremendous strides in expanding housing access, deepening service connections, and improving coordination across agencies—all made possible through the tireless commitment of our local government and community partners. I want to take a moment to recognize the incredible strides we've made together in our shared mission to end homelessness in Nashville. Thanks to your commitment and collaboration, nearly 2,000 individuals transitioned from homelessness into housing this year. That's 2,000 people sleeping indoors eliminating the traumatizing affects of outdoor elements and predators. Together, we:

- Opened the award winning Strobel House, Metro's first Permanent Supportive Housing property, now at full capacity.
- Operated Cold Weather Overflow Shelter services for an unprecedented 46 nights, providing safety and care during the harshest months. In these 3 months, we supported the transition of 51 individuals from shelter into permanent housing.
- Recorded a 45% decrease in deaths among our unhoused neighbors—proving that timely, strategic intervention saves lives.
- Doubled our housing inventory from 147 to over 333 properties, expanding access to safe, stable housing which includes the introduction of co-housing or shared housing.
- An increase to $11.9 million in federal funding to strengthen services citywide.
- Increased data collection by strengthening outreach efforts and partnering with the Nashville Rescue Mission to capture their data. The 2025 State of Homelessness Community Report is a reflection of where we are and insights to where we're headed. This report does not claim to have all the answers. Instead, the first of its kind for Nashville, it provides a data-driven overview of community impact from the past year. As we face the complex and evolving challenge of homelessness, the work is not finished—but with continued alignment, and we will move closer to a city where every Nashvillian has a place to call home.

Nashville's Continuum of Care Strategic Plan

The original Strategic Plan, created in 2019, was updated in 2023 in response to the growing housing and affordability crisis and new state laws criminalizing camping on public land. Comprehensive Community Data for FY24

The demographic data is from our local HUDs Homeless Management Information System (HMIS). According to the HMIS shared database, 10,874 people experienced homelessness in Nashville in FY24. This information is crucial for understanding population dynamics and planning effective strategies for ending homelessness. It serves as a valuable tool for making informed decisions based on demographic insights.

Federal Government (HUD) System Performance Measures

Nashville-Davidson County HMIS, Reporting Period: 10/1/2023-9/30/2024

HUD has developed the following seven system-level performance measures to help communities gauge their progress in preventing and ending homelessness. In order to encourage all local service providers to regularly measure and evaluate their progress in meeting the needs of people experiencing homelessness, HUD considers CoCs' System Performance data each year when awarding CoC funding through the CoC NOFO. The System Performance Measures can also be used locally to assess the system's functionality and to identify gaps in services. For CoCs to accurately assess their progress using these measures, they must ensure that their data sets are as complete and accurate as possible, from data entry to report generation. In order to fully understand and report on these metrics accurately, Nashville's CoC must continue to expand HMIS coverage among provider agencies.

Measure 1: Length of Time Persons Remain Homeless

Desired Outcome: Reduction in the average and median length of time persons remain homeless.

Measure 1

Good Neighbor Tool

The Image below is from the Good Neighbor Index Tool (GNI). It is used to explain how rising housing prices and income inequality are pushing more people into homelessness—what we call "displacement pressure." It compares this pressure to how many people are experiencing homelessness in communities across the country.

What the Chart Shows:

- X-Axis (Left to Right): This measures Displacement Pressure—how expensive housing is compared to people's income (median home price divided by median income). The higher the number, the harder it is for the average person to afford housing. Nashville's Displacement score is 5.6 (severe). This score means housing costs are rising much faster than incomes.
- Y-Axis (Bottom to Top): This shows the Displacement Rate—how many people are experiencing homelessness for every 1,000 people in a given area. Nashville's displacement rate is 2.9 per 1,000 people (severe). This means nearly 3 people per 1,000 in our community are experiencing homelessness.
- Each Dot: Represents a Continuum of Care (CoC)—a local homelessness system—across the country. The size of the dot shows how big the homeless population is.
- Color: Indicates severity. Nashville-Davidson is marked in black, while redder dots show more severe conditions.
- Nashville has an overall GNI Score of 4D Severe. This score means we're in the "danger zone" where both housing costs and homelessness rates are critically high.

Permanent Supportive Housing Offers the Highest Benefit at the Lowest Cost

Permanent Supportive Housing (PSH) is the best housing solution for the unhoused because it combines stable housing with essential wraparound services like healthcare, mental health support, and employment assistance. This holistic approach addresses the root causes of homelessness and improves long-term outcomes.

PSH is also the most cost-effective option. For every $1.00 invested in PSH, cities save an estimated $2.70 in healthcare, policing, and other emergency services. In contrast, emergency shelters cost $25 million annually, while PSH programs like Strobel House operate at just $1.9 million annually.

Overall, PSH provides both financial savings and greater human impact compared to temporary or emergency housing solutions.

Nashville-Davidson County Continuum of Care (TN-504) Federal Funding

The Continuum of Care (CoC) is a federal grant program created by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to:

- promote community-wide commitment to the goal of ending homelessness,
- increase access and utilization of help services;
- and distribute funding to support and quickly rehouse people experiencing homelessness.

To do this, HUD relies on local planning bodies—also called Continuums of Care—to coordinate housing and services in their geographic region. The TN-504 CoC is the planning body for Nashville and Davidson County, Tennessee. Its mission is to bring together local partners to manage resources, funding, and programs that assist people experiencing homelessness in our community.

Continuum of Care (CoC) funding is a critical source of federal support for efforts to end homelessness in communities across the United States. Every year, HUD holds a national CoC Program Competition to distribute federal funding. Local CoCs like Nashville's organize a local process to evaluate and rank project applications based on how well they meet community needs, follow federal priorities, and demonstrate results. HUD then reviews these applications and awards funding based on Congressional funding levels, national goals, and how well each CoC is performing.

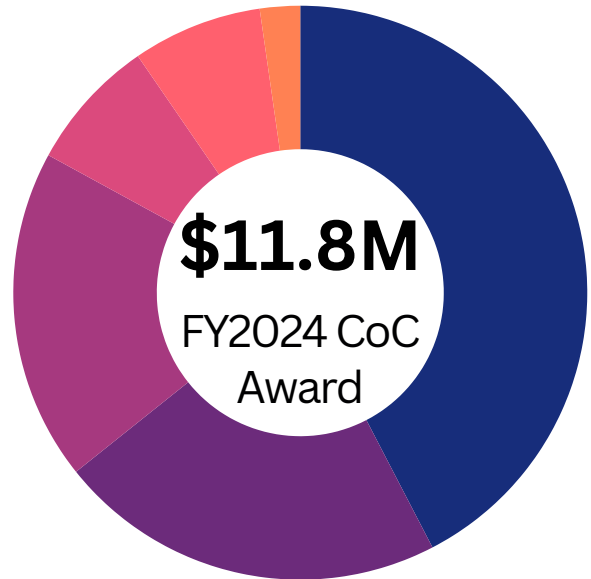

HUD outlines specific types of CoC programs that local agencies can apply for, such as permanent supportive housing, rental assistance with supportive services, coordinated entry referral systems, technology to operate shared databases, etc.

This report provides a breakdown of the 2025 award amounts along with the impact CoC funding had on addressing homelessness in Nashville in the calendar year of 2024, including a breakdown of clients, service providers, and leases supported by these funds.

2025 AWARDS

In January 2025, HUD announced funding amounts awarded to each Continuum of Care. The Nashville-Davidson County Continuum of Care (TN-504) was awarded a total of $11,846,313. This is compared to last year's funding amount of $9,695,266, an increase of $2,151,047. The funds are awarded by grants directly to the individual agency. Office of Homeless services is responsible for leading the grant process and creating the community application.

HUD elected this year not to fund any new programs for the Nashville-Davidson County CoC. The following outlines a breakdown of the amounts awarded to Nashville-Davidson County for specific types of homelessness programs:

$5M Permanent Supportive Housing (PSH)

PSH is designed to provide long-term, stable housing and supportive services for people who have disabilities and/or high service needs.

$2.6M Domestic Violence (DV)

$2.2M Youth Homelessness (YHDP)

YHDP initiatives are intended for creative, youth-driven strategies for preventing and ending homelessness for youth and young adults.

$885K Rapid Re-Housing (RRH)

RRH is a housing intervention designed to help households quickly exit homelessness by providing short- to medium-term rental assistance and supportive services.

$866K HMIS, CE&DVCE

HUD outlines a range of essential infrastructures for each CoC, including a shared database (HMIS), community referral process (CE & DVCE), and coordinated planning efforts.

Meeting the Moment: A Call to Action

Metro Government, in partnership with dedicated community organizations, have made meaningful progress in the fight to end homelessness in Nashville. From opening the city's first Permanent Supportive Housing development—Strobel House—to allocating $2.4 million for non-traditional Rapid Re-Housing and expanding low-barrier properties to 333 locations, we are building real pathways to stability and hope.

These milestones matter. But the work isn't finished—and we can't do it alone. No matter your role—business owner, developer, philanthropic community case manager, nonprofit leader, or public official—there's a vital place for you in this movement. Your voice, your skills, and your support are needed now more than ever. As one of our unhoused neighbors living at the Anthes Drive location stated, “As long as I have 4 walls and running water, I want housing.” When we remain aligned with the needs of the people we serve, they win. Your continued support and commitment is making a difference.

(Strobel House, Metro Nashville Government's first PSH)

Thank you to all of our partners!

As we reflect on 2024, we are filled with gratitude for the commitment of our community partners who work alongside us every day to house our unhoused neighbors in Nashville. Together, we helped nearly 2,000 individuals and families find a place to call home this past year. This would not have been possible without your tireless efforts, compassion, and collaboration.

From outreach teams and housing navigators to shelter providers, case managers, healthcare workers, and advocates – every role played a part in turning hope into housing.
