

March 2026 Employee of the Month: Issac Mendez

Which of the following criteria does your nominee most embody?

Excellence in Teamwork Excellence in Motivation
Inspiring a Positive Attitude Enhancing Workplace Culture
Exemplifying the Mission and Core Values of MPHD

Please provide a specific example that illustrates why you feel this person should be the MPHD Employee of the Month:

Issac is an excellent representative of MPHD in the community. He works diligently in the community to learn about resources available, develop positive relationships and make connections within MPHD. I recently hired a new outreach position and Issac welcomed her to join him in meeting new community partners and provided guidance on navigating creating community relationships. He has acted like a mentor without being asked and continues to connect her with relevant partners. Issac is the hub of community connection and always keeps in mind the work being done here and connecting programs to community partners. Issac is always willing to help and continues to work to educate staff not only on outside partners but the work being done within MPHD that we all may not be aware of. Which in turn, helps make us all better at serving our community.

Please provide any additional information about your nominee that you feel the Workplace Culture Committee should know when reviewing the nomination:

We should all strive to create the connection he has within the community and among our colleagues at MPHD.

Nominated by: Heather Snell

Dr. Areola and Issac Mendez