GEODIS Park Update – October 2026

Club Update: Nashville Soccer Club won Major League Soccer's Supporters' Shield for the first time in club history by defeating CF Montréal 2-0 on Saturday, October 24th at Stade Saputo. The Supporters' Shield is awarded to the team with the most points each season and guarantees homefield advantage for the entirety of the Audi 2026 MLS Cup Playoffs.

Nashville SC also set the MLS record for home points in a single season (44) and remained the only unbeaten home team in league play in 2026 (14W-0L-2D) by drawing 0-0 with the Philadelphia Union on October 28th at GEODIS Park.

NSC will continue MLS play at home against Red Bull New York on Sunday, November 1. Following the match, a special Supporters' Shield trophy celebration will take place on the pitch.

NSC will host the first playoff match of the Audi MLS Cup Playoffs on Sunday, November 22 at Geodis Park. Time and opponent are TBD.
